

Reflections of... The Supremes is a collaboration of musicians from England and Sweden, who are looking into the hits by the Supremes from a new and fresh angle. The Motown sound is unbeatable, so they are not trying to replicated but to renew it with all the different influences that they have.

Reflections of... The Supremes is bringing a cool, bluesy feel to these old hits, recorded live in the studio so that you can really feel the presence of the band in your room.

The professional musicians behind Reflections of The Supremes:

Howard Woolley: Keyboards.

Howard is the keyboard man for many notable Artists Live and in the studio. His latest projects include working with Dave in California and as support musician with the Beach boys and the Doobie Brothers.

Dave Cartwright: Guitar and Singer.

Dave has worked on tour and in the studio for nearly 25 years. His current recording project is being made at the Beach Boys-Red Barn studios in Big Sur CaL where he will exercise his production skills on an album of original work written with his songwriter friend Howard.

Bo Lee: Bass.

Bo is a legendary Bass player who has worked with, James Brown, Chuck Berry, Gil Scott Heron, and Billy J Kramer. He is always busy in the studio and performing live.

Jonas Backman: Drums.

Jonas, who moved from Finland to Manchester in 2000, is busy on the jazz, indie-rock and R&B scene around the North West. He has performed with musicians like Don Felder (Eagles), John Miles, Dave O'Higgins, Dick Pierce, Mornington Lockett and Scott Hamilton.

Camilla Lindén: Lead Singer. Camilla who lives in Stockholm, Sweden, has been touring in Scandinavia for many years. She has had several songs in the Swedish charts and has performed in the Swedish Eurovision Song Contest. She has done recordings and has performed both as a freelance musician and with her own band, Camilla Lindén and the Ballroom Blitz.
